of standard or Parket

This author is generally called by his pseudonym, Tirso de Molina. The year 1570 has been regarded as the time of his birth, but a later date has been assigned by some. The date 1572 is found on a painting of which there is a woodcut in "La Academia," 1877, page 113 [3250a.50.1].

Comparatively little is known in regard to the life of Tellez, and it is thought that much the larger

The text of those that are extant is very corrupt. as is the case with many of the Spanish dramatists of the seventeenth century, whose plays abound in alterations, made in arranging them for the stage, and in errors of the press. An account of Tellez and of his writings, by Hartzenbusch, is to be found in the preface to volume five of the "Biblioteca de autores españoles," and in Barrera. An analysis of several of the plays is given by Schack and Klein. The early editions of his works are of the greatest rarity, and the time of their publication has given rise to considerable discussion. Hartzenbusch and Barrera were unable to find a copy of the first edition of the Primera parte of the dramas.

that its date is 1621, because the collation differs from that of the edition of 1624, and the dedication and the two Aprovacions of the edition of 1624 are dated Nov. 8, Oct. 8, and Oct. 27, 1621. There appears to be no proof of an edition earlier than 1624, unless perhaps that derived from a statement by Duran in the "Talia espanola."

And that they, who of late so much blame deposing, are the men that did it themselves. The author, J. M.

Sm. 40.

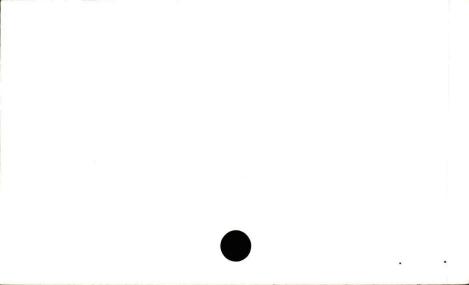

A portion of the thirteenth volume of the "Espectaculo de la naturaleza," which was translated from the French of the Abbé Pluche by Terreros y Pando. That it was not an independent publication is shown by the inscription at the end

Terreros y Pando, Estéban, 1707-1782. Paleographia española. (Continued 1.) of the book, "Fin del tomo decimotercio," and also by the plates, which are each inscribed "T. 13." The paging, however, has been altered throughout. as is also shown by the plates. The Paleografia española was written to replace the treatise on French paleography in the original work. By some it has been assigned to P. Andrés Marcos Burriel.

Terreros y Pando, Estéban, 1707-1782. Paleographia española.
